OUR FORUM

Editor News: Just a final word on the grading of citrus fruits, now that the packing of Florida fruit has commenced. Every progressive man takes an interest in watching the results of his efforts.

The files of the press will attest that we were the first in the state to urge a system of inspectors, and that all growers and packers be treated alike. Then we went further, and advocated, and before a committee of the legislature at Tallahassee, that the inspection and standardizing of citrus fruits in the state, and the United States, be placed under the pure food laws, and the pure food regulations of the state be made to harmonize with the pure food regulations of the United States; the object being that all citrus fruits sold in the retail markets of all the states should be subject to the same inspection under a common standard.

We all remember how the Citrus Exchange, our available friend R. E. Rose, and everybody they could rally, fought us tooth and nail, and in the heat of the controversy even the Horticultural Society—this is on record—refused to let us talk on this subject in the convention at DeLand. It was circulated that we were doing the citrus industry great injury in the state. It will be remembered that at that time Mr. Rose got before the legislature a bill on the grading of citrus fruits that neither he nor his best friends could interpret. Even some of our former friends dropped us and our cause, to escape what was called "the Waterloo."

But the virus took, it worked, and today from the press reports, foreign citrus fruits are inspected under the same standards that apply to Florida. This is as it should be, and we are much pleased with all but one thing. We do not think it chivalrous, or true sportsmanship, for R. E. Rose, the Citrus Exchange, or any of the other fellows who fought our cause by every means at their command, to herald the results of our fight as their victory. Let the gentlemen come forward and own up that if they are right now we were right at the time they were fighting us, and that henceforth they should drop the war on us or stop feasting on the fruits of our labors.

NOCATEE.

Mrs. H. T. Davis and Miss Kate Cline went to Tampa Monday morning.

A number of Nocatee young people enjoyed a chicken roast on the banks of Hawthorne Creek last Friday evening.

Mr. A. T. Shaffer has returned from a trip to Jacksonville, where he visited his son, who is attending the Florida Military Academy in that city.

The regular church services at the Methodist church were conducted by the pastor, Rev. York, on Sunday. The Nocatee church has had the good fortune of securing Rev. York's presence each fifth Sunday of the year, in addition to his regular first Sunday appointment. Next year the church hopes two have two regular Sundays each month for preaching services.

The Halloween entertainment and box supper at the new school house Tuesday evening was an entire success. The program rendered was as follows:

Recitation: Primary room.
Recitation: Glenn Shaffer.
Pantomime: "The Teacher's Halloween Trip."
Recitation: Mary Elizabeth Kelley.
Play: "The Girls' Halloween Party."
Ghost Song: Mrs. B. H. Gault.

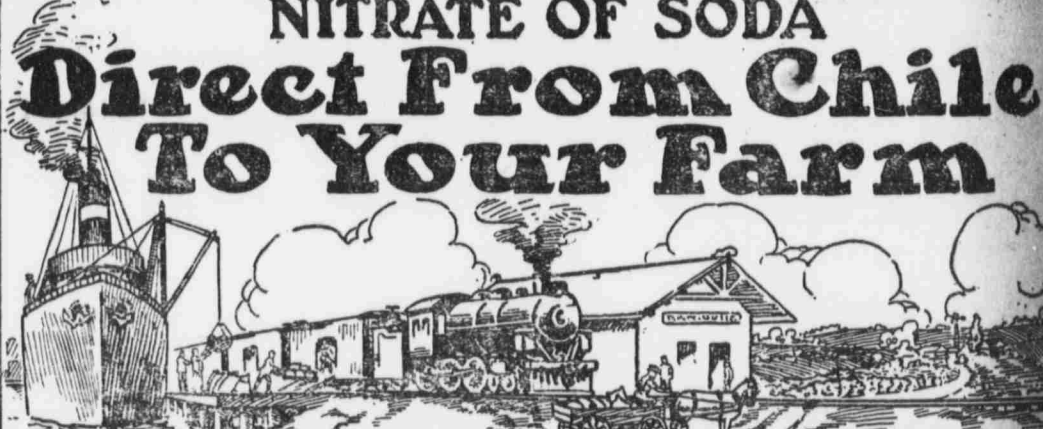

A large crowd of patrons and friends of the school were present to applaud every number of the program. The sale of boxes netted $28.75. The domestic science department, under the direction of Miss Grace Strubling, prepared the ice cream and sold 250 ice cream cones at 5 cents each, making the gross receipts $41.25. This sum will be applied upon the debt on the school piano and for other school purposes.

CHOLERA CAUSES SOWS TO LOSE PIGS.

Sows which are bred immediately after an outbreak of cholera in the herd are apt to lose their pigs. This has been the experience of W. E. Brown, agent for the University of Florida Extension Division in Clay county. Mr. Brown was one of the first men in Florida to inoculate hogs for cholera, and he has never seen a case where the inoculation has made sows abort.

Abortion which often follows inoculation is caused by the disease and not the treatment. If the sows are with pigs during a serious outbreak, the pigs usually come dead. If the sows are bred immediately after the outbreak the pigs come dead or so weak that they never recover. This trouble has been known as pig cholera. It may be avoided, according to Mr. Brown, by waiting three months after the cholera subsides before breeding the sows. This will give the sow a chance to recover from the disease.
